Robbin Culbertson is an accomplished Property Manager offering 25 years of professional experience with the last ten years focused on consultancy and project management for condominium management and investment rentals. Her focus is delivering strong financial results, cost saving strategies, process streamlining, resource management, and excellent customer service. She has provided management services to a variety of different clients ranging from start-ups to fortune 500 companies. Robbin is known for being a change agent, problem solver, effective communicator, relationship builder and thought leader.

After obtaining her business degree, she was recruited to work for one of the top property management companies. While working for P.R.E.I. T she started buying her own real estate investment properties and quickly realized property management was what she loved to do. She started by learning every role in a Property Management office and owning her own plumbing company/remodeling company.
